Why J & G Inns are Bucking the Trend

Carlisle, Cumbria, 25th October 2009

J & G Inns is bucking the economic trend and are continuing to expand and develop their unique property portfolio of Hotels and Inns. Their steady growth and continued success has been built on the company's strong belief in, and passion for, quality of service, good food and real value for money.

With a dedicated team of professionals and the desire to offer the very best, J & G Inns recently relocated their Head Office to Warwick Mill Business Village, providing a central platform from which the management of their independent Hotels/ Inns can take place.

In speaking of their success managing director Garry Smith explained: "We've enjoyed an extremely successful past twelve years and are proud of the continuous efforts of the team and ourselves to provide a truly enjoyable experience for our customers. As we continue to grow we look to the challenges ahead and hope to mirror our previous achievements whilst maintaining the core values we believe are fundamental to ourselves and to our valued customers."

With a portfolio that includes The Brackenrigg Inn, Ullswater and Warkworth House Hotel, Northumberland, J & G Inns provides hospitality and accommodation full of character and charm with each venue remaining unique and complementary to, their surroundings.

As one of the last remaining traditional coaching inns in Ullswater, The Brackenrigg Inn is steeped in history. Set amidst stunning Lake District scenery it boasts picture perfect views of the lake and offers award winning, locally sourced cuisine to satisfy all tastes and suit all pockets. It completes its traditional, hostelry, image with a selection of real ales including Tirril, Dent and their own Brackenrigg Inn draft, plus a welcoming open fire.

Across the North Pennines, Warkworth House Hotel, within the traditional chimney-pot village itself boasts many historical surroundings, including the magnificent 14th century Warkworth Castle and Hermitage. Its superb location, within short distance of the North East Coast invites guests to take advantage of the magnificent coastline and the abundance of activities it has to offer.

Whilst J & G Inns have enjoyed an extremely successful period at their previous Head Office by Ullswater, their new location at The Warwick Mill fully satisfies the ever-growing needs of this dynamic company, whose plans to take on additional sites and double their portfolio within the next six months are well underway.

The hotel is an historic building in the heart of Warkworth village and includes a staircase that once belonged to Queen Caroline. The interior has been tastefully-refurbished to provide a stylish restaurant, bar, bistro and bedrooms.

"The hotel's elegant, 19th Century façade is redolent of a time when the rich lived well and the rest got by as best they could. Today the hotel's restaurant gives everyone equal shares in the good things in life". (Geoff Laws, The Journal, October 06).
